

Environmental Policy

APS Group is an international marketing communications company that brings brands to life across every channel, in every market, all with a local touch. Currently operating from multiple locations across Europe and the US, we deliver an increasingly varied range of marketing services that includes print management, digital campaigns and e-publishing to logistics, retail solutions and online technology. Our clients number some of the world's best known brands in markets such as: retail, financial-services, travel, automotive, healthcare, pharmaceutical and public-sector.

Our aim is to ensure that our continued growth as leaders in our field is realised through sustainable and environmentally responsible practice. In pursuance of this goal, APS Group Top Management have committed to develop, implement and maintain an effective Environmental Management System (EMS) corresponding with ISO 14001 accreditation.

Under the leadership of our Group Managing Director, a dedicated Environmental and Quality Systems Manager has been appointed to maintain and cultivate the EMS. Their role, as bounded by the scope of ISO 14001 approval, is to guide the business so that it monitors and delivers effective continuous improvement on its environmental goals and objectives, and complies with all relevant UK and European environmental protection legislation.

The APS Group's environmental objectives are detailed within this policy and represent the key environmental aspects associated with the company's operational framework. They form a baseline from which we are able to measure and assess the impact of our business on the local and global environment and include the sustainable acquisition of critical raw material.

The APS Group acknowledges its responsibility to the environment and commits to the protection of the environment and the prevention of pollution. The APS Group is actively working to ensure its commitment to environmental sustainability is transmitted and upheld wherever it extends purchasing contracts for the manufacture of its Products and when it request support services from within the Supply Chain.

In making this environmental policy available to all interested parties (directly employed personnel, clients, suppliers and key stakeholders) The APS group encourages everybody to consider how they can support the realisation of our environmental goals and objectives and collectively contribute to protecting the environment.
